

While we cannot ask the agency to do anything it would not normally do under its regulations, we can assist you in working with the agency, ensure that your rights are respected, and that procedural errors are corrected.

When requesting intervention or assistance from my office, it is sometimes necessary to provide a privacy release for to give us access to retrieve your information. Please print out this privacy release form, fill it out, and mail to my Hartford office.

Unfortunately, I can't help you if your problem is not with a federal agency.

Because of the Constitutional separation of powers between the three branches of government, judicial matters (matters which involve the courts) do not fall under my jurisdiction. Examples of judicial matters are: child custody; divorce; criminal trials or imprisonment.

Problems which involve Connecticut State agencies also are not under my jurisdiction. Examples of such problems include: child support; motor vehicle registration or loss of license; welfare; state taxes.

For these problems, you should contact the Governor's Office for assistance at (860) 566-4840.
